

From processed equations to the retained physical branch receipts

Result: equations accumulate around adjacent astrophysical constraints; no direct survival-capture-growth chain is retained for the collider case.