

How the literature becomes a physical answer

Brown links trace people, papers, citations and claims. Green links follow calculations into the six physical conditions and the final answer.